

Wiley-Blackwell Publishing Award for Medical Education

Prize: A$1,500

Open to: Trainees and Fellows

Criteria:

- Clarity of the rationale and question, including identification of important gaps between what is known from the best available research and what is actually done in day-to-day practice
- Description of appropriate methods and analysis
- Discussion and conclusions in the educational context of the paper, as well as significance in the wider context of medical education
- How evidence is (to be) translated into practice
- Presentation

Note: The winner will be profiled and the interview may be published in RACP News and or on the College/Congress websites.